

POLISH PROVERBS

- A good appetite needs no sauce.
- A good bargain is a pick-purse.
- A good painter need not give a name to his picture, a bad one must.
- A guest sees more in an hour than the host in a year.
- A noisy cow gives little milk.
- A poor dancer will be disturbed even by the hem of her skirt.
- Do not push the river, it will flow by itself.
- Even the goats will jump on a slanted tree.
- Fish, to taste good, must swim three times: in water, in butter, and in wine.
- God grant me a good sword and no use for it.
- Hunger will lead a fox out of the forest.
- Hungry bellies have no ears.
- Ink, if not used, will dry up.
- Innocence itself sometimes hath need of a mask.
- Love enters a man through his eyes, woman through her ears.
- Never seek the wind in the field. It is useless to try and find what is gone.
- Nowadays you must go to heaven to meet an angel.
- The doctor demands his fees whether he has killed the illness or the patient.
- The greatest oaks have been little acorns.
- The woman cries before the wedding and the man after.
- There will be no bread from that flour.
- Watch the faces of those who bow low.
- Wherever you go, you can't get rid of yourself.
- Words must be weighed, not counted.
